Look at the Eagle.

He's the same proud bird that will adorn the Republican ballot at the coming election.

PARTING NOTICE.

The Herald finding that it had failed to make a case out of the shameful assault upon me in regard to my being short in the school fund, skulks ingloriously away from its lying insinuations and comes out under entirely different colors.

With great bombast and a flourish of trumpets, the world is informed of the existence of the Burgess donation to the colored schools of the county and I am informed as to how I am expected, by law, to account for the proper disbursement of the interest thereon. But I have never claimed nor ever intimated that the interest on this donation had been distributed to the colored teachers. That it should have been done is true and that it is right that the colored teachers should have the yearly benefits of this donation, which, by the way, is entirely separate and distinct from the State school funds is also true. But what about it? The Burgess donation, in the form of notes amounting with interest to $500, was received by me from Mr. Loney.
The fund had been loaned by some of my predecessors to an ex-Democratic State official and to a present Democratic candidate. On coming into office two years ago, I approached these gentlemen and their sureties and requested payment, that the whole amount might be put into one note and save the trouble of three.
The surety on one of these notes paid it off, amounting as the note did to about $114, which is now held in cash by me, awaiting the payment of the remaining part of the principal in order that it may all be put out at interest in one sum and on which part of principal so paid to me, the six per cent, has been paid by me to colored teachers. Though these gentlemen or their sureties have been repeatedly and earnestly requested by me to pay at least the interest as it came due, that the teachers might not have to wait, I have each and every time been told that the money would be forthcoming in a short time, and just so often have I been disappointed.

Now, I could have brought suit and forced payment, of course, but the cost of such a suit would have greatly reduced the fund and I considered that such a course should be the last resort and I hope and believe that these gentlemen will pay up at an early date without the cost, trouble and vexation of a lawsuit.

I will here take occasion to state that the principal of the notes amounted to less than $500 when turned over to me, and hence the interest on these interest-bearing notes is not $30 as stated. The insinuation that the law relating to the furnishing of boundaries of districts to railroad companies, whose roads pass through the county, has not been complied with is as groundless as other of the Herald's charges and insinuations are false and misleading. I deny that the Herald has earned the reward and I here repeat the offer.

Believing as I do and as was stated last week that the people are very little interested in such discussions and that I only consented to enter it after suffering repeated and continued insults and slanderous insinuations at the hands of the Herald, I shall take no further part in a wrangle forced upon me by the editors of that—anything, but high-toned sheet.

Respectfully,

JO. B. ROGERS.

We are not informed whether "Ja-kie" is writing his own editorials for the Herald or not, but we do know that the silly whine about Church relations bears his own ear marks, for if not quite, it is about the same language that has been continually in his mouth since last Friday morning.
Now, we consider that a candidate is in very great straits for argument when he drags his Church and her holy name into his political schemes, that he may further his own selfish ends thereby. In this alone, Mr. Rowe has proven himself unworthy of a place in that great institution and it makes no votes nor prestige for him, when his organ heralds all these things to the world. Now, as for our relations with Mr. Rowe in a Church capacity we will say that it is our undivided opinion and unbiased judgment that he is no credit to the Church, but the fact that the Devil may have some devils in the Church or any other good institution will not of itself debar us from seeking a place in its fold.
We are proud of the privilege of being even one of the humblest, weakest and unworthiest members of so great an institution as the Church, but God forbid that we should ever so far forget our own self-respect and the duty we owe to the Church, as to attempt to make it subserve our political purposes. We shall be content with mixing our religion with our politics, but shall ever keep our politics out of our religion. The fact that Mr. Rowe was elected by a small vote as delegate to the Baptist Association at South Carrollton, may have served to tickle Mr. Rowe's self esteem and the fact that he and his organ are so free to publish that fact to the world seems sufficient evidence on that point. We repeat, that while this may have tickled Mr. Rowe's vanity, it was to say the least a very great infliction upon the unoffending Association. It is also a fact that his father-in-law, Mr. Walker, while urging "Jakie's" claims among his brethren for the place of delegate, among other arguments said, "that it would give 'Jakie' prestige over the District, and might help him in the primary." If Mr. Rowe can get any consolation out of honor so obtained he is entirely welcome to it.
The Church is not at all responsible for the insult it has suffered at the hands of Mr. Rowe and his organ, but while this is true the part of prudence and good taste would suggest that if these parties have no other argument than this to present they would be less offensive by keeping quiet.

We wish to say about Rowe's effort to stand in with the People's Party that he has treated them like he does other people and parties with vilification and abuse. He seems to think people have forgotten how in 1891 he jumped on Judge Guffy, People's Party candidate for Attorney General, when the Judge had an appointment to speak here and nobody wanted to hear Rowe, or arranged for him to reply to Judge Guffy. He then assailed the party of Judge Guffy with his usual billingsgate. In so pushing himself forward he deprived W. G.
Fulkerson, candidate for Auditor on the People's Party ticket, of opportunity to speak, whom the people wanted to hear. To Judge Guffy Mr. Neal paid the respectful attention, he always extends to all parties.
Mr. Neal voted for his neighbor, Rev.
A. B. Smith, Alliance candidate for Delegate, against whom Rowe voted.
Mr. Neal voted for W. F. Condit nominated by a People's Party convention, presided over by W. G. Fulkerson to fill vacancy in Convention; occasioned by the death of H. D. Mc-Henry. Against Condit Rowe voted.
Mr. Neal has never sought to impose himself on the People's Party as Rowe repeatedly did, failing in which he sought to impose Judge Townsend on it after it had decided to run and endorse no candidate. They resented this meddlesome interference of his by refusing to endorse Townsend.
And after trying various members of the party to sign some statements as representatives of it in his interest, he asked R. T. Renter to sign some statements about Mr. Neal as a lawyer, extent of practice, age and experience who readily declined. Rowe then asked him for a statement that he (Renter) was a People's Party man and Mr. Neal was not the candidate of People's Party, not endorsed by it and was a Republican. This Renter agreed to do and signed what Rowe indicated without reading it.
In this the Esquire is made to set himself up a better Judge of the age and qualification required of a Commonwealth's Attorney than the Constitutional Convention, which fixes the age at twenty-four and the qualification a licensed, practicing lawyer for four years. But as a Justice of the Peace, of Ohio county, Mr. Renter is made to say differently. So this letter of Esquire Renter's is not a free will offering of his, as made to appear, but procured by the solicitation of that desperate candidate, who vainly jumps from one bad trick to another to get him votes.

It was one of the ablest attorneys of the Hartford bar, and a Democrat, who in speaking of Mr. Felix's failures to prosecute the two gamblers who were brought right into his presence under the charge of gambling on Saturday of the Fair, thus summed up the case a day so after it occurred: "While Felix, the d—n fool, went off to read the law" the attorney for the gamblers asked the Police Judge how he held the prisoners, and being informed that they were not held, the attorney told his clients to go and they went. And through just such incompetency as this on the part of our County Attorney, of whom every patriotic citizen is heartily ashamed, many other parties have gone either with a force of a trial or no trial at all.
We leave it to the reading public to decide whether Felix showed incompetency in this case when all the evidence he brings for his defense is the statement of a Police Judge, who himself acknowledges he didn't know the law. Of course a fellow who didn't know the law is altogether (?) competent to judge lawyers. If this isn't a case of the blind leading the blind then what is it? It was a clear case against the parties for gambling and Felix let them get away, and he need not kick about it. He can't change the facts.

The Elizabethtown News, that sheet which four days after Barnett had done Montgomery up in joint discussion, comes out with a wagger that Barnett wouldn't meet him on his own dunghill is now reminded that though Barnett left his appointments and traveled eighty miles to meet Mr. Montgomery at Hartford, the latter refused to meet Barnett on his own dunghill, but imports a little Democratic cock from this county in the person of W. T.
Hayward, who suffers a humiliating defeat at the hands of the invincible Barnett.

If Mr. Felix and his henchman have as much love for the school interests of the county as they fawning-ly pretend to have they would have done at least as good service to the cause last Sunday if instead of sneaking off to Hayti to hunt up, no doubt what they could more easily found elsewhere, they had spent that time in trying to persuade Jake Rowe to pay the money he owes the colored teachers of the county, which he has so often been asked, and which he has just so often failed, to pay.

The aggregate of domestic exports for 101 years ending with 1890 was $21,692,739,844, of which $15,639, 818,791 during the thirty years of Protection ending with 1890, while the aggregate of exports during the entire 71 years ending with 1890 was only $6,052,921,053.

We learn Buckner won't meet Wedding at Leitchfield next Monday. No wonder, he ran up against Wedding at Greensburg last Monday and was completely demolished. No, he won't meet him.

BARNETT still moves grandly on in his canvass. Every day the prospects are brightening and a long, strong, hard pull all along the line will land him safe with a handsome majority.

CLEVELAND, the man who hired a substitute, showed his love (?) for the old soldier by refusing assent to 524 pension bills, twenty-three of which were from Kentucky.

Misrepresented.

An inquiry respecting the Shultz-Singleton discussion at Bells Run, reveals the fact that the Waller Democratic account, which recently appeared in the Herald, is a gross misrepresentation of the whole affair.
Far from "scoring" a victory the wily ex-editor "scored" around and denied a portion of his platform. His opponent, however, brought him to time on this point by reading the Democratic platform. The debate was not so tranquil as our Waller friend would have us believe. This is proven by the fact that the Church authorities have decided to keep their doors closed against future political discussions.
From what we can learn they were driven to this course by the actions of one Mr. T. J. Smith, who had the audacity to walk on the seats instead of the floor. If Messrs Smith and Holbrook imagine they have accomplished anything in their favor at Bells Run that day, they will think different when the stern realities of the awful facts appall them in the early days of bleak November.

J. T. YATES.

Complimentary?

The Rosine correspondent of the Hartford Herald thus refers to Dr.
S. J. Wedding:
"Typhoid fever, which has been raging here for the past three months, is subsiding. There are only two cases now in town—U. G. Ragland and Miss Hortense Paget. Both are under the excellent treatment of Dr.
S. J. Wedding and we entertain no fears of their recovery."

Columbus Day at Beaver Dam.

The Beaver Dam School under the superintendency of Miss Dora E.
Gibson has prepared an extensive program for the celebration of Columbus Day, to-day and to-night.
The program consists of appropriate exercises, the reading of the President's Proclamation, the raising of a flag and numerous songs and tributes to the flag and to our country by the children of the school. There will also be a flag drill, motion exercises and speeches by the little ones. The exercises will be during the day and at night. The Beaver Dam String Band and Mrs. McKinney and her music class have kindly consented and will aid in the exercises. The trustees and patrons of Beaver Dam School seem to be wide awake and with the teachers will make this day one never to be forgotten. For want of space we fail to publish the complete program.

Every citizen of Beaver Dam will not doubt take a day off and join in this grand demonstration by their teachers, trustees and little ones.

Starving Himself

Because he bought his dry goods and clothing of other houses who charged him 25 per cent. more than Kahn would for the same money.
Isn't that awful?

Wedding Speaks at Camp- bellsville.

CAMPBELLVILLE, Ky., Oct. 16.— Hon. J. S. R. Wedding, of Hartford, Ky., addressed a large crowd composed principally of Republicans and Democrats, at this place last night.
He delivered one of the ablest Republican speeches ever delivered at this place. His presentation of the tariff, force bill and money questions were the finest and most unanswerable argument ever made in Kentucky. He is an orator of unquestionable ability, and his speech was listened to with marked attention and made many votes for the party in this county.
We shall ever remember him for his able effort in our behalf.

A Long Distance Talk!
The opening of the telephone line between New York and Chicago is surely a chance for a long distance talk, but Kahn's low prices talk more and a greater distance.

The Herald Denounced.

WHEREAS, The Hartford Herald has been continually misrepresenting our order and slandering our County President by publishing slanderous falsehoods, falsely charging him with prostituting our order and his office, as President of the Ohio County Union, to his political interest,

RESOLVED, That we, the Ohio County Union, now in session, do declare to the world that James P. Miller, as President of our order, has always opposed the discussion of partisan politics in our meetings, and by his persistent efforts has rendered himself unpopular with many of our people. We, therefore, denounce the charges made in the last issue of the Herald, as false, malicious and slanderous to the reputation of our order and its President. Unanimously adopted by a rising vote and ordered to be published in the Hartford Herald and Hartford REPUBLICAN, CAS and Owensboro F. & L. Journal. Done by order of Ohio County Union, Oct. 14, 1892.

Col. J. S. R. Wedding had an appointment last Monday at Greensburg, at which place he was met by Gen. S. B.
Buckner. Col. Wedding handled the Gen. without gloves and to the entire satisfaction of the Republicans of Green county. An account of the debate came in too late for publication.

Thomas H. Hewlett and Miss Lizzie Johnson, Pleasant Ridge, were married Tuesday, at 6 o'clock p. m., Dr. Coleman officiating. This is the culmination of a courtship extending over several years and binds together the true hearts of two most excellent young people. May long life, prosperity and happiness be theirs.

Mrs. Maggie Mosley Dean, wife of G. S. Dean, Godman, and daughter of Mrs. Jennie Mosley, of Hartford, died at her home last Saturday, and was buried here on Sunday.
She was a most excellent woman and the hearts of her many relatives and friends are mourning her loss. The family have the sympathy of the entire community.

Our Job Department has been somewhat embarrassed by the breaking of a press a few weeks ago, but we have just received a brand new Job Press and are ready for all kinds of work. Bring your letterheads, note-heads, envelopes, cards, statements, billheads, circulars, bills, posters and other job printing to our office, where you will get good work at reasonable prices.

Hon. Augustus E. Willson, one of the ablest Republican orators of the Nation, will address the voters of Ohio county at this place, next Friday, Oct. 28, at 1 o'clock p. m. Every Republican in the county should be earnestly requested to be present and hear Mr. Willson. This may be the last time you will have a chance to hear the principles we endorse and uphold fully discussed by so able an orator before the November election. Come and hear him, and also invite your Democratic and Third Party neighbors to come with you.
Every Republican Club in the county is expected and should be present.

E. D. Guffy, of Hartford, one of the most prominent lawyers and speakers of the Green River Country, addressed the McKinley Republican Club at Taylor Mines last Tuesday night. He handled the tariff and money question and the proposed honest election law in a way to prove that the Republican policy is the best for the whole people. His exposition of the Protective Tariff System as upheld by the Republican party was clearly demonstrated to be in perfect harmony with the Constitution, as shown by the history of our Government, from the administration of Washington to the present day, and this in the face of the fact that the Democratic party in its platform denounces the Protective Tariff System as unconstitutional.

A Grand Time.
The school at Alexander, which is under the management of Prof. W.
H. Barnes, will celebrate Columbus Day with music, flag-raising and dinner on the ground, and in the afternoon speeches by Messrs. O. M.
Shultz and R. Foster. The trustees and patrons of the district and the public in general are cordially invited to be present on that day.

A Serious Accident.
Miss Emma Rhoads, the bright fifteen year old daughter of Sam G.
Rhoads, of the Westerfield neighborhood, this county, while assisting in feeding a cane mill about ten days ago got her left hand caught and terribly crushed between the rollers. It was serious enough to cause the amputation of two fingers and a portion of the hand by Drs. Hoover and Barnhill on last Friday. At last accounts she was doing reasonably well and we hope she will soon be able to be out again.

Clear and Cooler.

Gone Home.
Very unexpectedly the death angel visited the little town of Sulphur Springs last Sunday morning, and called away one of its best citizens. Herbert Leach had been ill of typhoid fever but was thought to be improving. He died suddenly Sunday morning when no one was in the room. He was an exemplary, honorable and upright man, a devout and earnest Christian. He was just rising in the business world, and his death is a severe loss not only to his young family but to his community and the county.

KAHN'S TRADE PALACE

South and Rhea
The free dinner brought a considerable crowd of Democrats to town last Saturday, about 175 of whom took part in the forlorn hope parade from Beaver Dam. Hon. Barry South, of Frankfort, was speaker of the day for the Third Party and Hon.
John S. Rhea, of Russellville, for the Democrats. It was a lively day.
South opened in a fair speech of an hour and a-half, in which he severely criticized the Democracy. He was especially able in his exposition of the Democratic position on Free Silver and State Banks, and this, by the way, Mr. Rhea failed to answer.
Mr. Rhea in his two hours delivered the usual Democratic speech, which in point of delivery was very fine, while in point of fact was comparatively weak. The crowd treated Mr. South unfairly in breaking up as soon as Rhea was through.

Greenville Fair.
Last week was the time set apart for the Greenville Fair. Large crowds were in attendance each day and the grounds were in good condition. The trotting and running was good, and the rings were all that could be expected. Altogether, Greenville had a good fair. Dr. Slaton, as President, gave entire satisfaction.

Notice.

HARTFORD KY., Oct. 19, 1892.
EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—Although I am a Democrat, I ask of you to publish the following in your next issue, as it will be the first paper after date to come before the public:

For the last few weeks both of Hartford's papers have published nothing but personal abuse concerning men for whom the citizens of Ohio county voted, showing by such that they are competent for their office.

News like this is of no interest whatever to the public. They make enemies and drive the good people away from Hartford, against which they have a natural grudge anyway.
We all have faults and nobody ever detects their own, but only the faults of others. So let everybody attend to his own business and they will have plenty to do.

If the editors of both the Hartford papers want to have fun of their own by abusing each other, (election news schemes not included,) why don't they go and transact their business in the woods, get lost, never return and let some other editors run a distinct Democratic and Republican paper, with interesting news, bring the people to Hartford and not drive them away, as there can be no peace in a community where the officers lay and fight from day to day. A DEMOCRAT.

Herald please notice and copy.
[This sensible Democrat would no doubt make a good newspaper man, but if he was compelled to deal with an unprincipled sheet like the Hartford Herald, he too might now and then have to say unpleasant things.
—Ed.]

Fun for All.

Charles E. Hamilton, the noted Humorist and Elucationist, will visit Hartford next week and on Friday night, October 28, will entertain our citizens with one of his wonderful exhibitions, composed of Wit and Humor, Sense and Nonsense, Songs, &c., &c. 'Tis very seldom that Hartford is honored by such exhibitions, we, therefore, bespeak for Mr.
Hamilton a large and appreciative audience.

Dr. Landis, Williamston Female College says: "I have never seen his equal."

Dr. Abernathy, Rutherford College, N. C., says: "He is simply unsurpassed."

Public Speaking.

Hon. G. W. Long, Leitchfield, will address the McKinley Republican Club, at Taylor Mines to-night.
Every Republican of McHenry and Beaver Dam precincts should turn out and hear this able speaker.

Another Accident.

Wm. D. Smith, of Adaburg, while loading a saw log on a wagon a few days ago, had his leg broken in three places by the log falling on him. In loading the log one end of it was rolled upon the skid faster than the other.
He tried to slip it back even with the other, so the log would come on the wagon straight, and in doing so the skid slipped off the wagon and the log fell and caught Mr. Smith, resulting as stated above. He is getting along nicely and hopes to be out in a few weeks.
